

Galite

SIDE/CENTRAL TABLES

The elegance, luxury and refinement typical of Roberto Cavalli Home Interiors find a new, authentic and essential form of expression in the Galite low table. Made from raw materials that recall the roughness of nature, Galite boasts a sculptural and scenographic charm. The volcanic Galite Islands, off the coast of Tunisia, lend their name to the piece of furniture and evoke Africa, which has always been a source of inspiration for Cavalli. The irregular shape of the Travertino marble top and the side band with a rough golden finish take us back to the rocky surface of the island, to the unevenness of its land and to the brightness of its beaches.
